A Full Report of the : roceedings.

Last evening at early twilight the sturring music of Bloss' band, in front of the Mansion House, notified the active and enthusiastic Republicans of this city that the hour was approaching when the thrilling tones of the strong men and chieftains of their organization, who were to address them, were to be heard.

Long before the moment when the speaker was announced, a large and harmo-nious audience had congregated, when Mr. Geo. H. Spry came forward upon the stoop of the hotel, where so many of the high priests of free Kansas have trod, and an-
